

SGS ACADEMY PERU AND UPC UNIVERSITY ARE UNITED TO DICTATE POSTGRADUATE PROGRAM

JULY 2015

SGS ACADEMY PERU AND THE PERUVIAN UNIVERSITY OF APPLIED SCIENCES (UPC) ARE UNITED TO DICTATE TRAINING ON INTEGRATED MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

UPC is one of the most prestigious universities of Peru that offers more than 39 professional careers on undergraduate and graduate programs between master degree, graduates and highly specialized courses.

Currently has more than 13 thousand graduates. Recognized by its quality and academic requirement, is one of the three universities that most companies across the country prefer to hire their graduates.

THE NEED

UPC in its searching for providing quality training that meets market needs, in 2008 decided to work with an international certifier on management systems to strengthen academically its teaching in integrated management systems and to be able to certify to their students according to the guidelines of the International Registration of Certified Auditors (IRCA).

THE SOLUTION

The experience from SGS certifying on ISO 9001 at local level to over 500 companies only in Peru, its auditors good reputation and SGS Academy trajectory on Leader Auditors training around the world were main reasons the UPC chose SGS.

The academic agreement between the two companies was signed in 2008 and remains valid to this day.

IN WHAT CONSIST?

The agreement consist that on the last training stage, SGS Academy takes over the training course on Leader Auditor ISO 9001:2008.

During five days, the participants under a theoretical practical vision and according to the IRCA parameters, carry out role plays, intensive workshops and integral reviewing on ISO 9001 to become professional leader auditors.

SGS Academy Lecturers that provides training are instructors with vast academic experience on audit of management systems, allowing students to receive a high level education and according to the market reality for an Integrated Management System implementation suitable for the industry.

At end of training, students receive a triple certification which two of them are certificates issued by SGS.

WHAT WAS OBTAINED?

During those years SGS Academy has trained more than 1,400 students from UPC in 48 editions on training.

These are more than 1900 hours study, where the most pleasing result for both institutions are the created bond on experience and recognition from participants who claim that the training course dictate by SGS Academy exceeded their expectations.

As result from this society SGS Academy has got into depth and has consolidated increasingly in the Peruvian executive market, as an institution of high level professional training.

Today, SGS develops its own training about Integrated Management Systems; which also includes training for the Leader Auditor IRCA.

Peruvian University of Applied Sciences (UPC) Campus San Miguel. Lima - Perú